

Employee advocacy at the European Commission

Dana Manescu, Head of Social Media, Europcom, 9 November 2017

Commission

Council of the European Union 🥝

23 October at 10:17 - €

Once EU leaders agree on a text during the European Council, translators immediately translate the document from English into all other 23 official EU languages. Follow German language translator Kirsten during her first summit night:

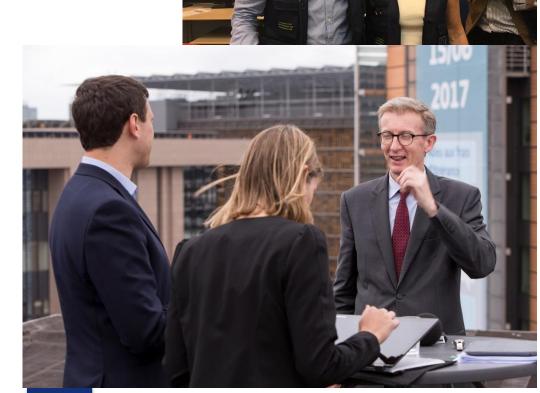

Follow a translator during the European Council

Learn More

○○○ 1.2k

82 Comments 235 Shares 61k Views -

LECOMTE Marie-Véronique | 5 months ago | 105

That is a very great initiative! I see many people sharing my links. In addition I'm becoming a bit more popular on Twitter thanks to this application with few clicks and interesting readings! Thanks .. in the near future would be worth making it become an inter-institutional project :-)

ı८ Untike

Reply

I did a lot of advertising! Whenever Smarp was mentioned in a conversation, I took the opportunity to explain the tool and I invited all my direct and other interested colleagues to the platform.

At first I only shared the posts to my personal Facebook account, but I noticed that my private network was not quite the right audience, so I created a public Facebook profile. Together with Twitter and LinkedIn these are the platforms I use for Smarn, sharing to a total of just over 800 connections, such as people in Member States or around the world I used to work with when I was dealing with various projects in DG RELEX (now the External Action Service).

Liliana Musetan, speaking at a work event

What others say... Glen Campbell, OP

"SMARP is not only helping me to keep up to date with what's going on in other DGs and share content to others from the Publications Office; it's also helping me to relay these messages to my networks, creating new engagements from followers."

Roberta Persichelli Scola, DG EMPL

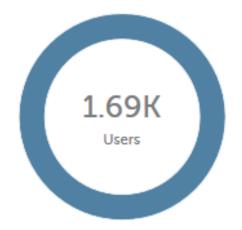

"I see Smarp as an effective way to use our potential as advocates for the EU, a cause we all strongly believe in. Let's engage with people outside there and be proud of EU achievements!"

IMPACT

User Engagement

IMPACT - STRONGER TOGETHER 1/3

Following

IMPACT - STRONGER TOGETHER 2/3

Any ideas 🙎 on how we could better win the #SpinelliPrize. DL: 16/08 communicate the 🔯 to citizens? You might

Carlos Moedas 🔮

@Moedas

Social Summit for Fair Jobs and Growth, 17 November 2017

ec.smh.re

[] 21

O 48

IMPACT - STRONGER TOGETHER 3/3

Facts matter: @EU_Commission sets the record straight in response to so-called StopBrussels consultation #Hungary

6:04 PM - 26 Apr 2017

17 2

0 4