Alliance on the Future of Cohesion Policy in the EU

CoR event on The Future of Cohesion policy, 18 May 2017

Programme

in association with the Assembly of European Regions (AER), the Association of European Border Regions (AEBR), the Conference of Peripheral Maritime Regions (CPMR), the Council of European Municipalities and Regions (CEMR), and EURO CITIES

Economic, social and territorial cohesion are key objectives of the European Union giving every EU region a fair chance to actively participate and prosper in the European Union. In recent decades Cohesion policy has contributed significantly to the completion of the Single Market, the establishment of the European Monetary Union, and in supporting EU enlargement. The European Structural and Investment Funds are the most visible EU instruments at local and regional level, demonstrating the benefits of the European Union to its citizens. The future of Cohesion policy is, therefore, closely linked to the debate on the future of the European Union, particularly since the European Commission itself has recently expressed doubts about the added value and the future role of Cohesion policy at EU level.

Further to the adoption of the European Committee of the Regions' own-initiative opinion on the "Future of Cohesion Policy beyond 2020" (rapporteur: Michael Schneider (DE/EPP)) at the CoR Plenary Session of 11-12 May 2017, the event will bring together leading representatives from the European institutions, Member States, cities and regions as well as territorial associations under the motto "Alliance for the future of Cohesion policy". The event will serve to send a strong message to the upcoming Cohesion Forum calling for securing a strong and effective Cohesion policy for all regions beyond 2020. It will also promote a real debate with stakeholders, including those who may not be designated as "friends of Cohesion policy"; and will feed the territorial concerns into the debate on the future of Europe, including the need for a territorial vision, by responding to criticism and detrimental proposals, such as "scenario 4" outlined in the recent White Paper on the Future of Europe.

European Committee of the Regions

Created in 1994 following the signing of the Maastricht Treaty, the European Committee of the Regions is the EU's assembly of 350 regional and local representatives from all 28 Member States, representing over 507 million Europeans. Its mission is to involve regional and local authorities and the communities they represent in the EU's decision-making process and to inform them about EU policies. The European Commission, the European Parliament and the Council are obliged to consult the Committee in policy areas affecting regions and cities. It can appeal to the Court of Justice of the European Union if its rights are infringed or it believes that EU law infringes the subsidiarity principle or fails to respect regional or local powers.
