Recommendations / conclusions from the debate	Importance of motivating young people to have a vision, to assume a role and actively participate in the formulation and decision-making process, so that their voice is heard at local, national and European level and that their ideas are included in laws and regulations.
	Europe cannot exist without young people and that the way society will transform depends on how we create a future for young people, pointing out that the future of localities is organically linked to what is happening now with young people and as such it is very important that decisions are made with them and for them.
	Encourage youth to push their limits, persevere and seek to increase their resilience by actively engaging in all activities.

	Improve the role of artificial intelligence, digitization and the need for responsible behaviour so that the place and role of young people in this evolutionary process is identified.
Other relevant messages expressed by citizens or speakers during the event	It is important to launch programs that support youth in housing or in purchasing their first home.
