CABINET OF THE PRESIDENT

The Cabinet of the President of the European Committee of the Regions (CoR) is the political interface between the president and the political levels of the European institutions. Working together with the president, it establishes the broad direction of policy to be pursued by the administration. The cabinet gives political guidance to the president, and the office staff act as her/his official advisory group. The Committee's president appoints the head of her/his private cabinet, who then selects the rest of the team. Each member of the team works on a particular number of EU policies within his/her sphere of responsibility.

The trainee in the Cabinet of the President supports the President and the other members of the cabinet in their daily work. He/she has a variety of tasks which include speech writing, preparing briefings and background notes for events and conferences and attending meetings and taking minutes. The trainee is encouraged to focus on the policy areas that interest him/her and to liaise closely with the political groups.

Cabinet of the President – Protocol service

The Protocol Service of the European Committee of the Regions (CoR) is primarily responsible for the planning and successful execution of high-level VIP visits received by the president. The service is also responsible for maintaining high standards of ceremony and organizing resources for salient events within the CoR. Liaising with other departments such as the Cabinet of the President or the Secretary General, the service ensures the smooth running of day to day activities that require effective conduct in relation to greeting important guests. The service is also active outside of the CoR, establishing relations with corresponding services in other European institutions whilst caring for the access and accreditation of the president and his guests in other buildings, such as the European Parliament or European Commission buildings for Plenary Sessions.

The trainee in the Protocol Service provides logistic support to the department and is responsible for the successful planning and completion of VIP visits. The trainee also reaches across the different departments and political groups in order to gain a fuller view of what protocol services are required at a given time. The trainee is encouraged to be proactive and alert during intense activities such as Plenary Sessions where there are also chances to meet and greet important individuals from across the European political sphere.

Office of the First Vice President

The Office of the First Vice President is part of the Cabinet of the President of the European Committee of the Regions (CoR). The Cabinet of the President is the political interface between the President and the political levels of the European institutions. Working together with the President, it establishes the broad direction of policy to be pursued by the administration.

The Office of the First Vice President consists of the First Vice President's advisor who offers political guidance to the First Vice President. He also works closely together with the rest of the cabinet and the First Vice President's political group.
The trainee in the Office of the First Vice President supports mainly the First Vice President and his advisor, but may also assist the other members of the cabinet in their daily work as well as the respective political group. She/he has a variety of tasks which include preparing speeches, briefings and background notes for events and conferences and attending meetings and taking minutes. The trainee is encouraged to focus on the policy areas that interest her/him.

POLITICAL GROUPS

European People’s Party (EPP)

The CoR is the EU’s assembly of regional and local representatives and as one of the largest political groups with approximately 255 members and alternates; the EPP is the driving force for this body. Via the EPP Group, our members can effectively represent their territorial areas, regions, cities and municipalities by getting their citizens’ voices heard in the European political concert.

Our mission is to encourage subsidiarity and proportionality by ensuring that the regional and local authorities have an effective say in the European decision-making process.

The EPP Group is led by a President, who together with the 1st Vice-President and another eight Vice-Presidents oversees the activities of the Group and represents it inside and outside the CoR.

The EPP/CoR Group is assisted by a secretariat that serves as a point of reference to members in their daily work. Under the authority of the Secretary General of the Group, the secretariat provides support for members’ work in the 6 CoR Commissions, working groups, joint consultative committees, CoR Bureau, and Plenary, and jointly organises the ordinary and extraordinary Group meetings and seminars. Apart from its activities in Brussels the EPP Group also organises external EPP Group meetings and EPP seminars twice a year in regions and cities in different EU Member States. In addition, the EPP Press and Communications division executes activities linked to the political and information activities for members and assures communication of the Group’s activities.

The key objectives and areas of activity around which work is organised include:

- Strengthening the role of the CoR as a political body in the EU;
- Reinforcing the role of the EPP - political motor of the CoR;
- Promoting and improving visibility of CoR’s and Members’ work;
- Strengthening co-operation with other institutions and EPP Party.
